

Teachers!

Interested in teaching your students about

- jury service
- the courts
- the judicial branch

Free resources are available to

- help students master Academic Content Standards
- provide engaging activities
- foster higher order thinking skills

California On My Honor Lessons

Lessons on jury and more were developed by K-12 teachers attending professional development institutes focused on the courts, cosponsored by the School of Education at California State University, San Marcos and the California Administrative Office of the Courts. Lessons are peer reviewed and field tested.

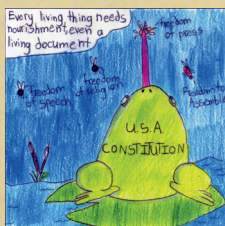

www.courts.ca.gov/programs-lawrelated.htm • Scan this graphic with your smartphone's QR reader application to link to the California Courts civic education website.

iCivics

Founded by retired U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, this web-based education project is designed to teach students civics and inspire them to be active participants in U.S. democracy through animated, interactive games. This site also provides civic education lesson plans for teachers.

www.courtsed.org

CourtsEd

This is an online collaboration between the Constitutional Rights Foundation, a nonprofit, nonpartisan civics education organization, and the California judicial branch. The website features "Courts in the Classroom," which includes animated online, graphic novel-style resources about the courts, as well as the annual First Amendment Cartoon Art Contest.

www.ccss.org/teacher_resources

Just Comment

Judge Curtis E. A. Karnow, Superior Court of California, County of San Francisco, writes the "Just Comment" column about the courts for teachers. Find the column in Sunburst, the online California Council for the Social Studies newsletter.

WHAT TEACHERS ARE SAYING:

...the quality of the lessons, regardless of the (grade) level, was superb.

-Spencer W.

...such a great and enriching experience to bring the practical concepts into the classroom

-Roger N.